INTERVIEW QUOTES / Ben Leffler, Creator and Designer of the Exmortis trilogy:

We have spent three years refining the detail and audio-visual effects for the final instalment of the Exmortis trilogy. The third chapter is a combination of the most successful, horrific and enjoyable elements of Exmortis 1 and 2, and builds on the traditional Point-n-Click genre by adding puzzles and shooter sequences.

Considerable planning has been undertaken to perfect the Games sense of timing, horror atmosphere and narrative. My advice for gamers is to turn the lights down, sound up and immerse themselves in the journey and terror of Exmortis 3.

INTERVIEW QUOTES / Colin Cardwell, CEO for Fizzy.com and 3RD Sense:

Fans have been eagerly awaiting the arrival of Exmortis 3 and they wont be disappointed. The frightening storyline, intricate detail and chilling sound effects of the final instalment of the Exmortis trilogy we hope will set a new benchmark for the Horror Point-n-Click genre.

Ben is considered one of the best flash developers in the games industry and is a master of the horror genre. Exmortis 3 truly demonstrates his incredible design skills, creativity and passion for his craft. Fizzy.com is proud to be supporting such innovation and talent.
