Bring on Summer. Bring on the iLID-mk1

With the onset of summer and the many festivals and outdoor parties rolling in, the last thing you need is an oversized wallet.

Add a phone and house key and those pockets are starting to look pretty chunky.

Introducing the iLID-mk1, the worlds thinnest iPhone wallet. Made of a tough polycarbonate, the ilidmk-1 houses everything you need and nothing you dont

Space for two cards, key and money clip, this case is the ultimate when getting out amongst it this summer.

No more over stuffed pockets, at only 17mm thin, you wont even know you are carrying it.

Secure your stuff in a case thats been embraced internationally after reviews in Macworld. Not badfor a couple of Aussie mates whose flash of inspiration has solved one of the summers big questions Where the hell am I going to put all this?

Pre orders are now being offered at www.ilidiphonecase.com with early supporters also receiving a limited edition worlds thinnest 1gb USB stick as a thank you for helping with the launch of the product.
