

CHAN & NAYLOR RELEASES E-BOOKS

Best-selling wealth creation books by Tony Melvin and Ed Chan are now available as E-Books on Amazon.com

Best-selling wealth creation books by Tony Melvin and Ed Chan are now available as E-Books on Amazon.com

These books provide a roadmap towards wealth creation, financial independence and security, said Sal Carrero, Chief Executive, Chan & Naylor.

The popular titles How to Legally Reduce Your Tax, How to Buy Property With Your Super Money and How to Achieve Wealth For Life will be launched as E-Books by Harper Collins today.

The E-Books provide expert advice in a style which is easy to read, while providing a call to action for those people who may be unsure of how to take control of their financial future, Mr Carrero said.

These interactive and easy to use E-Books will allow readers to tag content of special interest to them and highlight the strategies that best suit them.

The books challenge conventional wisdom of wealth creation and provide the foundations for achieving financial freedom including:

Why you should never pay off your home loan

Why the size of your asset base matters

Why rental returns aren't important

How to survive rising interest rates

How to use your super to buy residential property

Proper structuring for investment through companies and trusts

The seven types of trusts and how to use them

How to protect your assets from lawsuits, taxes and creditors

Pass on your wealth onto your children and protect it for generations

How to protect your business assets

The E-Books are today available for purchase through www.amazon.com

ENDS.
