

Clavax to attend in International ICT Expo 2017 in Hong Kong

The main motive of releasing this press release is to make the world aware of the participation of Clavax in the HKTDC International ICT Expo 2017 to be held on 13-16 April 2017 in Hong Kong.

San Jose, CA, 20 March 2017: Clavax, the top IT solution provider along with its team are glad to share about their participation in the upcoming International ICT Expo 2017 to be held at Hong Kong Convention & Exhibition Centre. With the mission to provide an international platform, the event has been organized to let exhibitors around the world showcase their high-end ICT solutions to several business partners.

The CTO of the Clavax believes that their participation in the Expo will be beneficial for the growth of the business, as they get a chance to present their solutions in front of the global partners & expand their crossover business activities. The Hong Kong Trade Development Council (HKTDC) will be entering into their 14th editions with the two events organized concurrently at Hong Kong from 13 to 16 April 2017. The Asia's largest Electronics Fair and International ICT Expo are the two annual fairs that are organized every year welcoming around thousands of buyers from different regions of the world.

The Chief Technology Officer of the Clavax, Deepak Tomar stated the following regarding the participation on the Expo: "We are excited to be a part of the most influential IT events in Asia Pacific that will be an ideal platform for us to exchange the market intelligence as well as learn about the latest trends. At Clavax, we not only build world class apps through agile development approach but also help to market and improve your app with time. With the help of this platform, I believe that we will be able to enhance our business efficiency through the interaction with many business visitors that will be attending the same event and gain valuable insights about international IT market."
