

Edify and EnvoyWorldWide announce industrys first integrated, two-way wireless customer management system

Combined product lets enterprise initiate and receive high volume multi-channel customer messaging

Edify Corporation, an S1 company (NASDAQ: SONE) and a global leader in multi-channel, self-service and assisted CRM solutions, today announced that it has entered into a joint marketing agreement with EnvoyWorldWide Inc, the leading provider of enterprise application messaging solutions.

Under the terms of agreement, the parties will integrate Edifys wireless vCSR (virtual Customer Service Representative) customer interaction system with EnvoyWorldWides EnvoyXpress one-to-many messaging to deliver the industrys first integrated, wireless customer management system.

More than one million wireless customers around the world currently use Edify vCSR systems to access company information and complete transactions. Now Edify and EnvoyWorldWide will offer enterprises the ability to also reach out to unlimited numbers of customers on a selective and proactive basis. The combined product makes it possible for an enterprise to both initiate and receive high volumes of multi-channel customer messaging.

Designed to meet the needs of the mobile and time-sensitive mBusiness economy, EnvoyXpress is EnvoyWorldWides comprehensive, enterprise application messaging platform.

Using EnvoyXpress, companies are able to quickly create and distribute messages simultaneously to the recipients device of choice, track the delivery, and solicit a response from each recipient. Messages are delivered instantly, personally and simultaneously, helping companies reduce operating costs, boost productivity, improve competitive advantage and cultivate customer loyalty.

Alain Dast, president and CEO of EnvoyWorldWide said, Our agreement with Edify brings together two leaders in their fields for the development of innovative two-way customer management solutions. This agreement provides customers the ability to use wireless as a proactive, two-way marketing service and support medium-addressing inbound and outbound communications. Now, companies can adopt a single integrated system and seamlessly, contact and respond to customers. The overall service is more effective, more efficient and more in line with customer requirements.
