

Entity Solutions Wins Australian Business Award for Service Excellence

Sydney, 29 June 2009 - The Australian Business Awards have been announced for 2009. The Awards recognise organisations that demonstrate the core values of business excellence, product excellence, sustainability and commercial success in their respective industries.

Entity Solutions has been announced as a winner for Service Excellence in its industry category of the 2009 Awards.

A professional services organisation, Entity Solutions represents the interests of Contractors (referred to as Independent Professionals (IPros) by Entity Solutions) and the businesses that engage them on a fixed term, contract or assignment basis. Distinct and separate from recruitment services, Entity Solutions does not search, select or place IPros into contract work, but rather manages the commercial relationship once an IPro secures or is already under contract to another business.

Matthew Franceschini, CEO of Entity Solutions said, Were absolutely thrilled with this recognition and to be in the company of a prestigious group of winners for the second time. Entity Solutions was founded for the very purpose of providing a superior level of service to IPros and the organisations engaging them. This award is testament to our teams commitment to this aim. We are very proud.

A spokesperson for the Australian Business Awards said, The 2009 Awards attracted a very high standard of entries from the Australian business community in times of great change. This years winners displayed exceptional performance and leadership in their respective industries, and are role models for any organisation striving for business and product excellence.

About Entity Solutions

Servicing Australia nationally with offices in Melbourne, Sydney, Brisbane and Perth, Entity Solutions is the leading multi award winning Professional Engagement Services organisation. This means we provide the corporate engagement structure through which Contractors (Independent Professionals/IPros) engage with and are engaged by the business sector, most commonly for fixed terms or on a project-to-project basis. By utilising our services, IPros and the organisations engaging them gain a risk free, efficient and compliant relationship with no administrative burden. This provides flexibility and control for all stakeholders to a fixed term, project based relationship, leaving all parties focus on what they do best. This is achieved through five distinct business units:

- Entity Enterprise IPro lifecycle management for corporations;
- Entity Engagement IPro engagement solutions for organisations;
- Entity Management IPro engagement solutions for individuals;
- Entity Migration individual and corporate migration solutions;
- Entity Backoffice financial and payroll services for organisations.

For further information, please contact Martin Foon, Executive Director Marketing and Commercial Services on (03) 9600 0333

