

Federation of Indian Associations of Victoria (FIAV) presents - Unity in Diversity - Integrated Indian Festival of Australia (IIFA) 2010 - an exciting, aesthetic and enlightening event.

Sunday 18 April 2010, 10am to 8pm. The 2010 Integrated Indian Festival of Australia: Unity in Diversity will bring Sandown Racecourse to life with the energetic style and colour of India on Sunday 18 April.

Visitors

to Unity in Diversity will experience a grand procession of vibrant world performers and an exciting program of cultural presentations over multiple stages including performances of narrative Indian Folk dance, colourful Bollywood music and dance (Indo Jazz Fusion), Indigenous dance, South Korean performance (Soothing Sori) and vibrant African drumming (Rhythm of Life).

This

family friendly, alcohol free event also features an array of food and handicraft stalls from diverse cultures, childrens amusements and other activities.

Unity

in Diversity is presented by the Federation of Indian Associations of Victoria (FIAV) and is proudly supported by the Victorian Multicultural Commission, City of Greater Dandenong, Victoria Police, Vic Urban and Cambridge International College Australia.

Unity in Diversity is held on Sunday, 18 April 2010, 10am to 8pm at Sandown Racecourse, Springvale, entry via Princess Highway. A $3 entry fee per person applies or a $10 family ticket can be purchased (two adults and two children). Free parking is available at the festival site.

The Federation of Indian Associations of Victoria (FIAV) was formed in 1989 by a group of resident Indian migrants of long standing and repute that were keen to bring all the various regional, cultural and lingual Indian groups together under the one umbrella organisation. Since then the FIAV has grown to comprise over 20 active Indian associations in Melbourne.
