Unveiling His Debut Single as Solo Artist, the Altruistic DJ/Producer also En Route to Pick the Next Producer to Work on a Project for Wyclef and Young Thug.

MIAMI, FL, (April 1, 2017) — You probably heard the "Marley Waters" producer tag but maybe haven't heard his name as an artist, YET!

Originally from the streets of Dorchester, Boston, Marley Waters has been showcasing his skill set as a DJ, producer and a songwriter for a while now, helping many artists craft songs such as Tinashe's Platinum Single '2 on', Christina Milian, and Ellie Goulding, just to name a few.

Wyclef Jean's single 'I Swear' featuring Young Thug from the J'ouvert EP thrust Marley into the spotlight, giving a successful end to 2016 as the song hit Billboard's top 15. Now that he's getting the respect he deserves as a hit-maker, DJ Marley Waters has unveiled plans for his single as a solo artist, with 'Wine Pon It' set to drop on April 21st under Nu Kingdom records, making 2017 the transition year. The single's represents a fusion of Pop, Reggae, R&B & EDM. Its infectious vocals combined with the Marley Waters signature Trap sound represents the current lifestyle of dance hall.

Striking up a partnership with RYSE, the artist currently has a remix contest in process where he will find the best new producer to fly out and work together in the studio with him. For all the acclaim that he's received from mastering various angles of the industry, the partnership with the artist discovery project shows his unceasing dedication to give back to the music industry- even though he himself has not yet reached celebrity status. In RYSE Discovery Series presentation Marley said "I'm going to find the ill-est producer and personally fly them out to work with me in my studio and we goanna make some fire".

Replenishing the tropical vibes he delivered on 'I Swear', Marley's debut single, 'Wine Pon It' is the quintessential version of himself. With the new island-infused jam. Marley Waters is ready to make another chart-topping hit for the summer.

What 'Wine Pon It' means to Marley Waters? "Wine Pon It' is when bad mon and bad gyal body link up and stroke to the melody. Sexual frequencies translated through the riddim. To perform you must gyrate and twist your hips, core, and chest in a winding motion. The wine is a Caribbean culture dance I resonated with in Boston where I grew up. The 'Bashment' is where we went to 'Wine All Night'".

Stay tuned to find out the celebs Marley has recruited from all over the world as surprise collaborators to deliver several remixes that will only enhance his luscious debut single. "All of these girls in the place, you the one I want. Grip my arm we can skate. Rollin up the clouds.. We get lost in a wave."

Be ready to ride the wave as you hear this on the radio and clubs WORLDWIDE.
