After deciding that a new website was what they needed in order to fully embody the professional nature of their business, Whiteboards R Us contact their current web design company, Infinite IT Solutions, to complete the redesign for them. It was clear that Whiteboards R Us needed an easy to read and understand website that showcased their product range in an attractive and informational way.

The creative team at Infinite IT Solutions quickly set to work coming up with the new-look Whiteboards R Us website, which is now live and available for perusal at: <http://www.whiteboardsrus.com.au/>.
