LEAVE a lasting impression on the hearts and minds of young bright kids by helping them learn valuable language skills as an English teacher in China, from just $125 per week.

Student Flights has teamed up with i-to-i and Teach and Travel China (TTC) offering student travel to travellers an exciting opportunity to live and work in China for 5 months on a teaching internship, commencing on February 3, 2011.

The internship is now priced from $2545* per person, usually $2995, including an organised intern position, comprehensive TEFL training, monthly spending allowance, all accommodation, meals from Monday to Friday, in-country support and visa assistance.

A comprehensive 14-day induction program and mandarin lessons are also included, plus a two-day tour of China.

With no previous teaching experience necessary, the internship is the perfect way to explore China whilst getting paid.

Available to travellers aged 21+ who are fluent in English. No degree necessary.

The internship starts in Beijing and is on sale until November 23, 2010.

Travel dates from February 3 to mid-July. End date will be confirmed by school upon arrival. An optional trip to Tibet is available at the end of the internship for an additional fee. There are also great deals on Asia flights to look into.
