MISS MULTIVERSE AUSTRALIA MODELS AT VIVID SYDNEY

Model-contest style Reality TV Show, "I Am Multiverse – AU" will be teaming up with dLux at this year's edition of sARTorial – VIVID SYDNEY on the 10th of June 2017.

Regional Finalists of this year's 'I Am Multiverse AU' will work with the fashion designers and technology experts on a show like none other.

dLux is presenting sARTorial on 10 June as part of Vivid Ideas 2017 at The Connection, Rhodes in partnership with City of Canada Bay Council. This exciting initiative explores the relationship between fashion, art and technology in a part run-way, part performance-art exhibition. There will be interactive elements to explore and the opportunity to get up close with the futuristic garments and accessories that have been designed by collaborative teams of artists, designers, and technophiles. With a live DJ and a bar this is the most original party Sydney has ever seen!"

"We are so excited about having our models part of such a fantastic initiative. Miss Multiverse girls are modern and multifaceted with good education and an interest in technology. When we discovered sARTorial we could not believe how perfectly they represent what we stand for", says Producer and National Director, Yolandi Franken.

dLux MediaArts is one of Australia's key screen and media arts organisations, committed to supporting the development, engagement and experience of contemporary screen and digital media culture. dLux aims to develop partnerships which contribute to new opportunities for digital media practitioners in their local contexts through linking technologies and communities especially in remote and disadvantaged communities.

'I Am Multiverse – AU' is the TV Show of the model contest 'Miss Multiverse – AU' of which the international version has been going to air for the past few years in America and South America.

The show follows girls from across Australia on their journey to the crown. Through mental, physical and emotional challenges girls will be eliminated until only one winner is selected to represent Australia at the world finals.

This is not a contest for the faint hearted and to be selected as a Regional or National Finalist girls must have qualities that demonstrate their ability to be multifaceted. Contestants are not only beautiful and fit but also educated, business minded and with great emotional and social intelligence.

Challenges and tests are not revealed to the finalists until they arrive at each challenge.
