The Musicorp Group employs more than 120 staff at branches in Queensland, NSW, Victoria, SA and WA. Half their employees are music teachers, many delivering music programs for Musicorps partner schools. Their staff includes many experienced teachers, professional players and graduates from tertiary music courses or conservatoriums of music. Musicorps leadership of the Australian musical instrument industry is based on its disciplined financial management, its commitment to excellence and its nationally available resources. Musicorp is present in every mainland state. More than 70,000 music students nationally have chosen their instruments from Musicorp. Their experience and long-established relationships with leading international manufacturers ensure customers get what they want. Musicorp has the quality, the expertise and the stability to put music in customers life.

Musicorp is committed to quality in everything they do. Musicorp offer the countrys broadest range of instruments for rental from many of the worlds most prestigious manufacturers. Quality underpins every activity from designing and delivering music programs to offering the broadest range of instrument rental and tuition choices. Musicorp works alongside schools to create music programs or band programs that benefit students, the school and the community. Musicorp actively encourages students and teachers to enjoy their instruments. They regularly organise player workshops where a speaker, such as a well-known musician, addresses music students and teachers from schools in the area to encourage their enthusiasm and development.
