

myprosperity selects eSignLive to provide accountants and financial advisers with a completely digital experience

Online financial platforms adds e-signatures to improve transparency, increase security and streamline processes for advisers, accountants and their clients

VASCO Data Security International, Inc., a global leader in digital solutions including identity, security and business productivity, today announced it has partnered with online financial platform, myprosperity, to bring e-signatures to Australian accountants and financial advisers. Accountants and financial advisers can now offer their clients the convenience of being able to review and electronically sign financial documents with eSignLive™ e-signatures within the myprosperity platform. This ensures full transparency, increased security and a streamlined process for both parties when managing personal finances in the cloud.

myprosperity helps keep accountants and financial advisers central to their clients' management of accounts in a way that improves the client experience. By eliminating the need to leave the portal to sign personal tax returns and statements of advice, clients no longer have to print, scan, fax or mail paperwork or send documents to a separate e-signature solution. With myprosperity and eSignLive, the entire transaction is completed in less time and takes place entirely behind the accountant or adviser's portal, freeing up accountants and advisers to better service their clients and uncover additional growth opportunities.

The automated signing process returns documents complete and error-free directly into the accountant or adviser's portal. eSignLive secures signed documents with one-click verification and a visual audit trail with detailed information about who signed when and where, ensuring the ability to produce comprehensive electronic evidence should a dispute ever arise.

According to Stephen Jackel, CIO of myprosperity, "There's a wave of change happening in the financial services industry in Australia centred around delivering business digitally, especially document transaction signing, because it's a key component of the client-adviser relationship. For example, our platform captures upwards of 10,000 signatures annually, so by adding eSignLive, we have the flexibility to provide a completely digital approach to how our partners manage their clients' finances, while providing the convenience to manage and file their documents in a quicker, more secure and convenient way."

eSignLive Vice President of Sales, Marketing and Services, Ilene Vogt, said, "An increasing number of Australian financial services organisations are moving towards digital transformation to provide a more secure and efficient way of dealing with data and to create a seamless customer experience. What's fuelling growth in the adoption of the e-signature technology in Australia is the availability of in-country data residency, ensuring Australian data in the cloud is kept under Australian jurisdiction," he explained.

Those looking to find out more about e-signatures in Australia can download the Beginners Guide to E-Signatures in Australia at <http://secure.esignlive.com/Beginners-Guide-to-eSignatures-in-Australia.html>.

About myprosperity

myprosperity is a software company that has created an online solution for accountants and advisers. We believe that technology can improve how accountants and financial planners work with their clients. Our platform saves time & money, generates more revenue and increases client engagement. We are passionate about helping our partners improve their bottom line and make them more efficient. For more information: www.myprosperity.com.au

About eSignLive™ by VASCO®

eSignLive™ is the electronic signature solution behind some of the world's most trusted brands. Regulated industries and top analyst firms recognise eSignLive for its ability to balance the highest levels of security, compliance and auditability with ease-of-use to automate any process – from the simplest, internal signing workflow to the most complex, customer-facing transaction. Available in the cloud and on-premises, and with full white-labelling capabilities, eSignLive supports an organisation's digital transformation strategy across the enterprise. eSignLive is the trade name of Silanis Technology Inc., a VASCO group company. Learn more at www.esignlive.com.

ENDS

Media Enquiries: Martin Aungle, Explore Communications: (02) 4872 4981/ 0415 917 381, maungle@explorecomms.com.au or Sarah Hanel, eSignLive: +1-250-216-1762, sarah.hanel@esignlive.com