

SummitCare launch High Care Extra Services at Sugarloaf Gardens, Wallsend

SummitCare

has been providing quality residential aged care services to Greater Sydney for over 40 years. SummitCare's vision, Working together to provide peace of mind is paramount in service provision at the nine aged care centres operated by SummitCare.

The newest addition to the SummitCare services is Sugarloaf Gardens in Wallsend, which has provided exceptional care and services to the people of Newcastle for the past 14 months. To compliment the range of services already offered at Sugarloaf Gardens, Magnolia has recently opened and is offering a new standard in High Level/Aged Care. Magnolia is a High Care Extra Services Unit, the first of its type for SummitCare and it offers residents a level of choice and service delivery not previously available in general aged care services.

With its beautiful décor and luxurious feel, Magnolia has impressed the first residents to take up residency in the unit. Meals are not only deliciously tasty, but are also served in a professional manner, equivalent to restaurants offering a fine dining experience.

The

residents of Magnolia have expressed high levels of satisfaction in the unit. As part of their Extra Service experience at Sugarloaf Gardens they receive quality, fresh cooked buffet style meals, alcohol served with lunch and dinner, massage therapy weekly, accommodation features to promote luxury living and individualised lifestyle and leisure programs.

Accommodation

in Magnolia is a mixture of single and twin rooms. Our twin rooms are large and spacious; ideal for married couples. A number of twin rooms are still available for those people looking to enter high level aged care together as a couple.

Fees and charges for Magnolia at Sugarloaf Gardens are very competitive and affordable. This really is an opportunity to receive the little extras that add to one's quality of life, whatever the age.

Seeing the residents sipping from their wine and beer glasses and enjoying some quiet music was amazing. I cant wait to spread the word about Magnolia a visitor of Sugarloaf Gardens.
