BT to deliver key support services for Unisys global network operations centres

EL SEGUNDO (July 3, 2007) - BT announced today that BT has entered into a global managed services agreement with Unisys Corporation (NYSE: UIS), one of the world's largest IT services and solutions companies. The agreement is for a six-year term following a transition period. Under the agreement, BT will deliver network monitoring and management services in outsourcing engagements for Unisys clients worldwide.

Under the terms of the contract, BT will implement a standardized set of global network monitoring and management processes across Unisys outsourcing operations and will take on the remote management of LAN and WAN devices for most of Unisys client contracts. Unisys expects to drive improved scalability and operational efficiency as a result.

Michael Boustridge, President, BT USA and Canada, said, "We're extremely pleased Unisys has entrusted us with the transformation of their network management operations. Network-centric outsourcing is core to BT's business, and we look forward to delivering to Unisys improved operational effectiveness at a reduced cost."

"Unisys believes that BT is the right partner to help us strengthen the network services side of our IT outsourcing portfolio and drive efficiencies in service delivery," said Don Liedtke, vice president, Global IT Outsourcing Operations, Unisys. "BT's strong network services offerings provide new ways for Unisys to drive innovation that can help to further our clients' strategic business objectives."
