SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA: 27 June, 2012: Vodafone today announced the arrival of the Doro PhoneEasy 615 - a 3G flip style mobile phone that does exactly what it says on the tin-makes using a mobile phone easy to use. Purposefully designed for seniors, this phone is unassumingly clever and offers all the features customers who want an easy to use phone without sacrificing style.

The Doro PhoneEasy 615 comes packed with useful features including an in-case-of-emergency (ICE) function button built into the phone menu; a thoughtful feature allowing users to store essential emergency information into the phone including emergency contacts, personal identification information and medical information including blood type and allergies; and an ear-hook hearing aid support.

Ross Parker, General Manager of Devices at Vodafone, said, “There’s more than meets the eye with the Doro PhoneEasy 615. A lot of care and consideration has gone into the design of this mobile phone to make activities like calling and texting easier than ever before.”

Doro is the European leader in senior mobile communication and the Doro PhoneEasy 615 features a large, clear display, a high-volume loud speaker for enhanced call quality, and a big button key pad with large, well spaced keys to make dialling and texting a breeze.

“While the Doro PhoneEasy 615 doesn’t have all the bells and whistles of a smartphone; it is nonetheless a clever phone that makes using a mobile phone an absolute pleasure. It’s great to see a mobile phone like the Doro Phone Easy 615 become available in Australia and we’re excited to be offering this excellent option to customers,” added Ross.

Andrew Batchelor, General Manager, Doro Australia, said: “Senior Australians now have a purpose built easy to use 3G phone with camera available on the Vodafone network. With it’s easy to read text and display and extra loud sound, we are confident the Doro PhoneEasy 615 will become a hit with seniors in Australia, just as it has in other markets around the world.

The Doro PhoneEasy 615 is available at Vodafone now on a great range of prepaid and postpaid offers. For customers who prefer the convenience of a contract plan, Vodafone is offering the Doro PhoneEasy 615 for $0 upfront on Vodafone’s $19 plan over 24-months*. Prepaid customers have the option of purchasing the Doro PhoneEasy 615 for $149 and pairing their new phone with one of Vodafone’s excellent prepaid recharges like Vodafone’s 365 day recharge; a flexible recharge with credit that lasts the entire year. *Total minimum cost is $456
