

A Beautiful keepsake of a horse called Casper

The loss of a pet can be heartbreaking

The passing of a life can be a difficult time for most. We were recently contacted by a client who had brought many pieces off us in the past. Her niece had recently lost her beloved horse Casper and wanted to give her a personalised gift that she could keep as a forever keepsake.

She had owned the horse most of her life and living in the country spent many countless of hours with the horse. The sudden loss of a beloved pet is a very difficult time for most people.

She ordered a piece for her niece and also for her sister, as the horse had been part of the family for many years. We received a lovely thank you on our facebook page from the niece advising she received it and she really loved it.

We are so lucky to have such amazing clients who express their gratitude to us on a daily basis, both via social media and emails and text messages.

I do hope this gift provides her with a beautiful keepsake of a friend she had for many years.
