

A truly revolutionary design: King Wing 270° Awnings unfolded

It isn't often new ideas absolutely change the way people do things, this is the start of revolutionary thinking, beginning with the range of extremely affordable vehicle mounted awnings back in the early days of the company, the team from Adventure Kings completely changed the way many Australian campers chose to set up four wheel drives for camping. The addition of an Awning on the side of a vehicle adds a quick and simple solution to shelter anywhere it is needed. For many years a standard square awning has been the go to requirement for even the simplest camping and beach driving setups, that was until the release of so called "wing" style awnings that use a strong skeleton underneath the canopy to support the UPF50+ and fully waterproof awning fabric which can fold out all the way around to the rear of a vehicle. For many years the brands making these have produced light weight designs that were prohibitive in price, that was all until June this year.

The turning point was when Adventure Kings the industry's most cost-effective camping brand released one of the best bang for buck 270° Wing Awnings available in Australia. Priced at nearly half what the nearest competitors offer, it is sure to be a hit this summer. There are many benefits to the 270° King Wing Awning primarily the extra sheltered area, boasting an impressive 11m² which is nearly double the space offered by the 2.5m x 2.5m Awning, additionally due to its design can be set up by a single person by simply unfolding the arms and placing the attached legs in position. Simple to setup, it is also just as simple to fold away, with small captive hooks on each poles peggable feet, once set up it is possible to adjust the leg lengths to the ideal height for camping and clip them into place for a quicker setup next time.

Plus, every 270° King Wing comes with a full DIY fitting kit + pegs and guy ropes included at no extra cost – with ultra-heavy-duty galvanised steel mounts that are incredibly strong and easy to install.
