ACS Distance Education- Helping people learn

Watch our new video

ACS Distance Education has just released a new video on how our courses work and what makes our courses unique. This video provides an interesting snapshot of some of the innovative and interesting course options that are available for people who are wanting to learn something new.

As our courses are flexible and self-paced, students can focus their learning for their goals. Whether the student's goals include learning for more information to further a hobby or a passion, or for wanting to further a career and get some foundation or in-depth knowledge in the area, our courses are ideal for both.
