

AMP Capital Bring The Face of Fashion to the East and West

Wednesday, 29 March 2017 - AMP Capital Shopping Centres (AMPCSC) is pleased to announce the launch of The Face of Fashion Magazine which will be available to shoppers in Queensland and Western Australia from this week. The bi-annual magazine, which will launch exclusively in AMPCSC's Garden City and Karrinyup Shopping Centres in Perth and Pacific Fair Shopping Centre on the Gold Coast, will see an initial print run of 260,000 across all three centres. Led by editor-in-chief of 10 Magazine and 10 Men, Alison Veness, The Face of Fashion will celebrate Australian and international fashion, beauty and lifestyle. "I'm thrilled to be working with AMP Capital to produce The Face of Fashion, and supporting Australian designers and retailers," said Veness. "Both cities are unique in their approach to fashion and lifestyle. This will be celebrated with curated content tailored to reflect both markets." AMP Capital has recently unveiled its latest redevelopment plans for both Garden City and Karrinyup Shopping Centres, which will see the centres transform into leading edge, world-class retail, leisure, entertainment and fashion destinations. Meanwhile, Pacific Fair has continued to welcome leading local and global brands to its stable of retailers, cementing its title as Queensland's leading fashion destination. Belinda Daly, Head of Shopping Centres Marketing has said, "At AMP Capital, we've always been a supporter of established and up-and-coming brands through our shopping centres across the country. By launching The Face of Fashion in Garden City, Karrinyup and Pacific Fair, we're excited to give these brands and centres a voice, and showcase just how much talent and creativity is found within our coastal cities." The first issue of The Face of Fashion will focus on the AW17 season, including a ten page spread shot by internationally renowned fashion photographer Simon Lekias, who has previously worked with Harpers Bazaar, Marie Claire and InStyle. The shoot was styled by leading stylist Mark Vasallo who is known for his work with leading Australian brands Scanlan Theodore, Bassike and Camilla. The Face of Fashion magazine can be found in-centre or online through: <http://ampcapitalretail.com.au>. The first Autumn/Winter issue is available now, while the second issue for Spring/Summer will launch in September 2017.
