

BACK BY POPULAR DEMAND: KIDDI-OKE, FOR KIDS WHO SING

In 2016 November Kiddi-Oke was launched at Oasis Shopping Village Palmerston. Due to the interest created, children and their parents endorsed its return in 2017 and now once again Kiddo-Oke is going to be an important feature in Oasis's lead up to Christmas. Kiddi-Oke 2018 will launch on Saturday 17th November with the first heat, followed by a second heat on Saturday 24th November. The final is being staged on Saturday 1st December. Kiddi-Oke is an exciting karaoke style competition for kids between 5 and 16 years, designed to build confidence and self-esteem in children, bring out their creative flair and give them the opportunity to perform in front of an audience in a safe happy fun environment. It's also great entertainment for local shoppers at the Centre especially leading into the festive season. Last year dozens of children took to the stage performing their renditions of well-known songs such as 'Let it Go', 'Pokémon' and 'Do you want to build a snowman', plus numerous renditions of Katy Perry's 'Firework' and Taylor Swift's 'Shake it Off'. This community event is an initiative of Oasis Shopping Village, who provide the infrastructure, prizes and certificates for each child. In launching the Kiddi-Oke 2018 competition, Helen Wilson, Centre Manager, commented. "Palmerston is a fast growing area of families with young children. At Oasis Shopping Village we enjoy engaging with these families and are delighted to host Kiddi-Oke 2018."
