#TGA REGISTERED

Australia's secret weapon for better health is the TGA (169886 & 169887) registered Bionic Air Plasma Medical Devices. They are registered to assist in recovery from illness, assist breathing, reduce the severity and frequency of colds and flu, support and assist immune system recovery, enhance the body's absorption of oxygen and more.

The medical device sits on the bedside table of the user within 1-2 metres of their breathing, restoring the body and blood as one sleeps, whilst it targets the systems of the body. An independent study in 2009 on 973 long term users, reported 95% of users experience less colds and flu. A similar study in 2020 is underway, 97% of users report the same. "We just don't get colds and flu anymore" is the most repeated user comment over the years. This device works for all ages and in our experience, the more illnesses one has, the better the results will become.

Debbie Black Chairman of Bionic Air says, "These Australian Made Cold Air Plasma Medical Devices use Quantum Physics to produce very small Therapeutic Air Ions and other unique air species through the respiratory system and skin, for access into the lungs, bloodstream and systems of the body. This unique combination produces positive therapeutic and biological effects for users. They have been registered with the Health Department (later the TGA) since the 1970's. Organically, over 1,000,000 (one million) Australians' have experienced this advanced science and technology over the past 53 years. There have been No recalls and No adverse health events. Its trusted efficacy is beyond reproach. It's a genuine advanced medical device benefiting public health across all ages and comorbidities. The savings for Government health departments and insurers is too large to quantify."

"At a time when pathogen infections are increasing and virus mutations are on the rise, waiting for recalibrated vaccines may not be possible to avoid substantial impacts to our country in human life and financial costs. These medical devices are a physics solution, not a chemistry solution; so it has not interfered with medicines or vaccines. In our many years of experience with colds, flu and other pathogens in the body and blood, it appears that it does not matter what mutation the pathogen is, this technology still works." says Black.
