Latest Range of Bomber of Polarised Floating Sunglasses for Fishing, Boating, Jet Skis

Introducing, Bomber Sunglasses Australia. The new Bomber Range of Polarised Floating Sunglasses is now available in Australia through DizzyScent online store. With categories including, boating, jet skis, fishing and kid's sunglasses there's something for everyone. All Bomber eyewear comes with patented floatation technology and hard coatings to protect them from scratches.

Tommy Bonacci founded Bomber Eyewear in 1997. The four times World Champion Jet Ski Racer made his first pair of Floating Sunglasses from torn off pieces of foam padding from jet skis. Today it's a family-run business that uses a patented foam lining technology to offer water sports enthusiasts, fishermen and everyone in between great eyewear that is comfortable, durable, stylish and able to float.

Bomber sunglasses are not here to replace those favourites. Instead of risking your expensive sunglasses when fishing, cycling or boating etc, your Bomber Sunglasses is like your second pair. Polarised Fishing Sunglasses look just as cool but they float and won't scratch. It's like having insurance against both eye injury and breaking or losing your favourite pair of sunglasses in the water.

Known in Australia mainly for their fishing lure scents, Dizzy Scent has now introduced several other complimentary products into their online store. This includes the new range of Bomber Eyewear, Polarised Sunglasses that float on water.
