

Brisbane GIS Day 2014 – Are You Going?

With only a few days to go until GIS Day 2014, Brisbane is gearing up for the largest, most exciting geospatial event of the year!

Hot on the heels of G20, Brisbane GIS Day 2014, on Wednesday 19th November, is set to bring both Australian and international business and technology leaders to the Queensland capital.

The fantastic program full of high profile speakers will be introduced by SIBA Spatial Chair Dr Tim Foresman and compered by Brisbane City Council's Chief Digital Officer Cat Matson.

Over 30 exhibitors will be showcasing a huge variety of advanced spatial technologies, including Google Glass, 3D printing, WorldView-3 satellite, UAVs and much more. And with loads of competitions to enter and free prizes to be won, this is an event not to be missed. So register for your free ticket now! www.gisday.com.au/register.

The FREE event is hosted by GIS People at QUT's Gardens Point Campus in Brisbane CBD. It runs from 9am-4pm on a drop-in format – just turn up whenever suits you. For more event details visit www.gisday.com.au.
