Saltwater lure casters targeting barra, jacks, threadfin and other tough predators will be impressed by the new feature-packed Quantum Smoke Inshore baitcast reels.

Starting with the Smoke baitcast platform's reputation for delivering arguably the best casting distance of any baitcaster on the market, the Smoke Inshore adds a new level of toughness and durability to round out a great casting and trolling tool for big saltwater fish.

The Smoke Inshore baitcaster's one-piece frame and side plates are built from the new SCR alloy, a material designed in conjunction with marine-engine metal experts for the ultimate in corrosion resistance. Further protection is added with a SaltGuard 2.0 coating prior to the paint process.

Inside a Smoke Inshore baitcaster, the design utilises seven polymer-stainless hybrid PT bearings, plus a continuous anti-reverse bearing. Other features include an aluminium spool, lightweight EVA grips, ACS adjustable centrifugal cast control and a sealed CSC stacked drag system that incorporates ceramic washers for excellent heat dissipation and smooth delivery of drag power.

The initial launch of Smoke Inshore baitcasters starts with the 100 size and quick 7.0:1 gear ratio in both a right-hand and left-hand models. Smoke Inshore baitcasters are lubricated with premium Hot Sauce grease and oil at the factory, so they're ready to cast further, straight out of the box.
