

Change your mood with GO2's 100% Natural Inhaler Sticks

GO2, the inhaler stick that's been changing the mood of a nation one sniff at a time is launching in Australia. The 100% natural essential oil inhaler sticks have been formulated to help users to relax, fall asleep, focus and energise, perfect for hard-working consumers, parents with small children, athletes and even students struggling to juggle a social life and their studies. The brainchild of UK brothers Marc Shipman, a former freestyle wrestler and entrepreneur, and Benjamin Shipman, the GO2 range of inhalers have been created in conjunction with aromatherapy experts, industry leaders and university researchers. Marc says, "Having felt the strains of trying to juggle various aspects of my own life personally, from running a successful business to being there enough for my family, I couldn't have discovered essential oils at a better time. We spent over two years extensively researching essentials oils and perfecting our blends to ensure that we could provide an easy and affordable solution that works." GO2 controls and checks the geographical origin of each plant, the distillation process, and the essential oil itself. The 100% natural, synthetic-free and cruelty-free inhalers can be used by anyone, anytime and are scientifically proven to work.
