

CLICKCLACK LANDS IN AUSTRALIA WITH WORLD KITCHEN

World Kitchen Australia has announced its appointment as the exclusive Australian distributor of renowned New Zealand kitchenware brand, ClickClack.

World Kitchen Australia has announced its appointment as the exclusive Australian distributor of renowned New Zealand kitchenware brand, ClickClack.

ClickClack creates airtight, space-efficient and BPA-free storage solutions for the pantry, fridge and countertop. Known for its stylish and practical kitchenware, ClickClack's range of multi-use products is the perfect way to effortlessly organise any kitchen.

More than 30 products, including ClickClack's much-loved pantry cube line, will be available in World Kitchen and leading homewares stores nationally from 8 February 2017.

World Kitchen General Manager Eva Caprile said ClickClack was a welcome addition to World Kitchen's existing suite of kitchenware brands which include Pyrex, Baker's Secret, Corelle and CorningWare.

"ClickClack's commitment to high-quality, practical kitchenware is a perfect fit for the World Kitchen family and we're extremely pleased to have its range of hardworking products on board."

Click Clack CEO, Craig Dais said, "Our priority is to make food storage simple and easy.

"We've been a part of kitchens in New Zealand for more than 30 years and we hope Australians love ClickClack in their kitchens as much as their New Zealand neighbours do."

The ClickClack range will be available in World Kitchen and leading homewares stores nationally from 8 February 2017. For more information, visit www.worldkitchen.com.au
