

Dick Smith partners with Globalgig for exclusive international low cost 3G mobile data service

From just $9 per GB per month in Australia and only $19 per GB per month internationally

Globalgig, the mobile data pioneers who recently launched their ultra-low cost 3G mobile data service in 40 countries, today announced that iconic Australian retail giant Dick Smith would be selling the Globalgig service as its exclusive international mobile data solution.

Dick Smith CEO for Australia and New Zealand Nick Abboud said, "Globalgig is a perfect fit as the key mobile data partner in our mobility offering. Their service is low cost in Australia and internationally and there are no lock in contracts. As a result you can use your mobile data overseas in the same way you would in Australia and there is no bill shock. All in all Globalgig is a true consumer champion in mobile data, something Dick Smith customers will very much appreciate."

Globalgig will now have a significant presence in over 330 Dick Smith stores nationwide, online at dicksmith.com.au and reach over 5 million households per month as part of the weekly-published Dick Smith catalogue.

Globalgig Channel Sales and Marketing Manager Matt Farmer said, "Dick Smith have a proven track record of success in the telecommunications industry so partnering with them to launch Globalgig to the mass market makes perfect sense."

As a leading supplier of travel accessories, Dick Smith is also one of the most common destinations for Australian travellers preparing to go overseas.

Farmer continued, "Dick Smith are specialists in good quality, cost effective electronics and travel products. By using Globalgig, due to our low data rates, Dick Smith customers can now use their smartphones, tablets, laptops and mobile devices in Australia and 39 countries overseas without having to change their data habits at all."
