

EMM achieves a hat trick of international accreditations

EMM Consulting is pleased to announce our recent attainment of international certifications ISO 9001:2015 (Quality Management Systems), ISO 45001:2018 (Occupational Health and Safety Management Systems) and ISO 14001:2015 (Environmental Management Systems).

Having previously operated under the guidance of these standards, EMM's Integrated Management System (IMS) now incorporates all of the company's systems and processes into one complete framework. This structured approach allows for the identification of risks and integrating control measures into all business activities.

ISO 9001:2015 is based on a number of quality management principles including a strong client focus, the process approach, and a commitment to continual improvement. Underpinning this framework is EMM's objective to be highly respected professional advisors with the company being distinguished by the consistent quality of its work, its integrity and its commitment to clients.

ISO 45001:2018 specifies requirements for an occupational health and safety (OH&S) management system with a focus on safe and healthy workplaces by preventing work-related injury and ill health, as well as by proactively improving OH&S performance. At EMM, there is nothing more important than our team's mental and physical health, safety and welfare, and accordingly, this continues to be a driving focus and an integral part of our culture.

ISO 14001:2015 is the internationally-recognised standard for the environmental management of businesses, prescribing controls on activities which affect the environment. The framework enables EMM to achieve the intended outcomes of our environmental management system, which provide value for the environment, the company, our clients and the broader community.

Commenting upon the achievement, CEO Luke Stewart noted:

"We are excited by the attainment of our Quality, Environment and Occupational Health and Safety certification which consolidates and rewards the approach that has made EMM successful for the past 11 years. Our commitment to remaining compliant with industry standards and best practices provides our clients confidence in our business and the way in which we operate".

EMM was awarded third-party accreditation through QMS Certification Systems, one of Australia's leading providers of assessment and certification.
