'Europe' wins the ansarada innovation challenge at the ModelOff World Financial Modeling Championships 2012

The finals of the ModelOff Financial Modeling Championships 2012 took place in New York on Sunday 2nd December. After 2 competition rounds in the countdown with a number of contestants knocked out of the running, the stamina of the 16 finalists was fully tested on Sunday morning. After 4 hours and 6 individual challenges at Bloomberg's Head Office on Lexington Avenue, they traveled to Microsoft's NY office where they competed in front of a live audience. The ansarada Innovation Award tasked finalists to team with 3 other contestants to conquer a 30 minute, 4 part challenge. The audience was able to roam amongst the groups as it happened, watching genius in motion. The winning team was team 'Europe'. Congratulations also go to the overall winners of the ModelOff 2012 Championship – Alex Gordon (New Zealand – PriceWaterhouseCoopers), Dan Mayoh (Australia – Low Carbon), Andras Galambos (Morgan Stanley – Hungary) and Keven Zhou (Top Student – Canada -University of Ontario). ansarada is an entrepreneurial company, driven by a constant and never ending desire for improvement through innovation. ansarada offers the only virtual data room designed exclusively to simplify due diligence.
