

EVi Global Markets safe harbours in Australia

Securities trading specialist moves to Sydney

Award winning Securities trading firm EVi Global Markets has recently been granted Australian Financial Services license and moved its office from Auckland, New Zealand to Sydney, Australia in order to better service their clients situated in the more constructive Australian market. The firm has operated as a Financial Service Provider in New Zealand where it received an award for best institutional trading firm of New Zealand. However, the firm chose to move its staff and office to Sydney as Management felt that New Zealand became an unsuitable environment managing institutional client expectations going forward.
