

Free 10 Part Network Marketing Training Program Launches

Exciting news for current and future network marketing participants who can now learn from an industry leader.

Network marketers in Australia will now have access to a free 10 part training program, courtesy of top Australian network marketer, Holly Nunan. Mrs. Nunan, via her website www.HollyNunan.Com, recently launched the 10-part training program as a way to serve participants in the Australian network marketing industry and help them to improve their skills and succeed with their business opportunities.

Mrs. Nunan, who has been in the Australian network marketing industry for over 6 years, headed up the expansion of a global coffee network marketing company into the Australian market in 2013 and gained valuable leadership experience throughout the pre-launch and post-launch period. She achieved the position of Emerald Consultant in the company in July of 2013.

A central figure in the Australian network marketing industry, Mrs. Nunan has expanded her business through all Australian states and territories, into New Zealand as well as Thailand, Philippines, United States and into Europe.

She was recently published in AusMumpreneur hard copy publication "How To Build A Successful & Profitable Business From Home" and was nominated for the AusMumpreneur "Making a Difference" Award.

The free MLM training program adds to current network marketing content on her website and provides a snapshot of Holly's experiences across two multi-level marketing companies, being part of a country launch and leading expansion across multiple countries.

Importantly, it aims to educate beginners in the industry along with those that have been industry participants for many years on how to get off to a fast start in their business and achieve their business goals.
