

With the warmer months coming up, party season is nearly here and L'Action has you covered with its party prep essentials to prepare your skin to look fabulous all season long. Marketing Coordinator of McGloins Supertex, Shima Shahbazi says, "When summer comes and Christmas parties start, it's important we remember to look after our skin and not leave it as our last priority. It's best to get in early, start the prep now to revive your skin from the cooler months and put your best self forward! We also need to remember to drink enough water and try to get eight hours sleep on nights where you can."
