

GIS People Creates Land Values Tutorial for NSW Globe

GIS People has produced a brand new tutorial video for the NSW Government department of Land and Property Information (LPI) to help them promote and explain their new 'Land Values on the NSW Globe' initiative.

Last year GIS People developed and produced four NSW Globe video tutorials for LPI, from initial script, to voiceover, to final video editing. Due to the success of these tutorials and the close working relationship GIS People and LPI established, LPI again asked GIS People to create a video that shows the public how to access and explore their land values information on NSW Globe.

You can see the video here: Tutorial 5: Land Values on the NSW Globe.

Do you need to develop training video tutorials for your software? GIS People has the capacity and experience to produce professional, educational videos. Contact them to discuss your requirements.
