

High Density Shelving Systems Now Available!

Commercial Kitchen Equipment Supplier in Australia

Brice Australia now brings a new shelving system by Tonon to the Australian market. Italian designed and manufactured, Tonon produce high density modular shelving systems that have been crafted to maximise space utilisation. Tonon's shelving system is suitable for use in cool rooms, supermarkets, commercial kitchens, restaurants, butcher's shops, poultry shops, delicatessens, and various other food and hospitality settings.

Tonon's modular shelving system is 100% customisable. Using 3D imaging of the customer's facility, Tonon can manufacture the ideal shelving system. Some of the key advantages of this shelving system are: manufactured from food grade materials, antibacterial and hygienic compliant shelving, made from recyclable materials, easy to assemble and setup, easy to clean and caters to room temperatures ranging between -30o C and +90o C. This makes the shelving system ideal for food preparation facilities that rely on clean and food-friendly storage equipment that can store various produce of differing types, sizes and weights.

The shelving system is self-supporting and does not need to be secured to floors or walls. This inherent feature minimises installation time, simplifies assembly, promotes customisation and suits owners or tenants who want to limit modifications to their premises. Corner configurations can also be installed to maximise space usage by using corner brackets instead of frames which securely lock into neighbouring shelves. Depending on the space of the room, up to 90% of the room can be utilised with Tonon's shelving system.

Accessories available with Tonon's shelving system include: dividers, colour coded racks, fall arresting bars, additional supports for heavier items and assorted brackets.
