

How Many Cats Is Too Many? How Much are Pet Owners Spending on Pets' Christmas Presents?

Aussie Pet Survey Sets Out to Find Answers

A new survey sets out to find the answers Australian pet owners really want to know. Critical questions such as "How many cats is too many?", "How much do Australians spend on their pets' Christmas presents?" and many more will be answered once the results are in from the Ultimate State of Pet Care Survey currently being undertaken by leading Australian online retailer VetShopAustralia.

In order to get the best results possible, VetShopAustralia is asking Australian pet owners to take just 6 minutes to complete the survey and in return, participants can opt in for a chance to win thousands of dollars in pet related prizes and get priority access to the results. Alternatively participants can choose to respond to the survey with complete anonymity.

To participate, Australian pet owners are asked to visit <https://lnkd.in/gEXpgPG>. Dynamically designed to tailor the questions to the responses given, it's easy, fast and fun to have your say.
