John Morris Group Partners with MTS Systems in the ANZ Region

Sydney, Australia – The Test and Measurement Division of the John Morris Group recently announced that it has signed an agreement with MTS Systems as the new sole distributor for MTS System's Structural Test Systems (STR), Materials Testing (MAT) and Ground Vehicles Testing (GRV) Divisions across Australia, New Zealand and South Pacific Islands. John Morris Group is a privately owned, third generation family business spanning over sixty years. John Morris Group's Test and Measurement Division has a growing team offering support and expertise in the test and measurement equipment supply markets. With a strong presence in the ANZ region, John Morris Group will strengthen the promotion of MTS System's solutions and system portfolio to Defence, Aerospace, Research and Development, Automotive, Biomedical, University and Component Testing markets.

Alberto Blanco (Regional Sales Manager for MTS Systems), said "This appointment of John Morris Group provides a strong local support for the region's rapid growth in Composite Materials, Biomedical and Aerospace industries."

"This exciting new partnership is a win for local industry and research. This partnership cements our growing relevance to test and measurement engineers across a range of industries important to the future of Australia & New Zealand. We are proud to enter a partnership with the passionate and talented team from MTS and look forward to helping our customers answer their most challenging questions together." said Andre Wyzenbeek, John Morris Group's Managing Director.
