

Liane Fletcher at Property Whispers has been shortlisted for the REB Women in Real Estate Awards 2020.

Liane Fletcher at Property Whispers has been named as a finalist in the REB Women in Real Estate Awards for Innovator of the Year - Individual.

The Women in Real Estate Awards is regarded as one of the real estate profession's most prestigious accolades. The program provides a platform for industry professionals to showcase their talents, recognising the industry's high-performing female agents, property managers, BDMs and businesses.

Award recipients represent a true cross-section of the real estate industry, from the most prolific saleswomen to those that deliver excellence in customer service.

Commenting on the announcement, REB editor Grace Ormsby said this year's finalists represent the best of the best in Australian real estate.

"It's been a really tough year for the real estate industry, but this year's REB Women in Real Estate Awards finalists have shown the strength, determination and skills to succeed regardless.

"We can't wait to celebrate and recognise the leading female agents and property professionals at our live-streamed awards event, which will be held on 11 December 2020.

"On behalf of REB, I'd like to congratulate everyone who has made this year's finalists list. Your hard work deserves to be recognised."

Liane Fletcher, Co-founder at Property Whispers, said that she was humbled to be recognised and proud to be named as a finalist in the REB Women in Real Estate Awards 2020.

"Property Whispers's recognition for our excellent contribution to the property industry reinforces the strength of our service and dedication to connecting with the community and engaging with clients," she added.
