

Luxo Living is Turning 18 and You're Invited to the Party!

Luxo Living is turning 18, and have promised for the whole month of February celebrations, savings, one off deals, and even a few party games with some awesome prizes to be won.

Luxo Living is celebrating and they are ready to party like it's 2019. "We are turning 18 and you only turn 18 once, so why not make it big and share the fun and savings with our customers," says Wayne Frendo, marketing coordinator for Luxo Living. "This is an event where the whole of Australia will want to celebrate!".

The celebrations will be kicked off with a cake cutting in-store on the 1st of February at 9:30am and continue on with events and promotions throughout the month.

Winston Tu, the CEO of Luxo Living is as excited for this event as his customers will be. "I can't believe 18 years have gone by since we first started selling online, but we are just at the beginning of a new era in online shopping where the consumer is savvier and better informed than ever before. The fact that we've been around for so long and still here today is simply because we have been able to offer the best deals in Australia on popular furniture items. We'll be around for at least another 18 years as we continue this tradition of making home styling affordable for Australians. To celebrate our 18th birthday we'll have a month full of crazy deals and offers you won't find anywhere else in the country. You don't want to miss this!"
