

Manheim to offer 500+ hail affected cars in Sydney auction

One of Australia's leading automotive auctioneers, Manheim is offering the public a chance to buy hail damaged vehicles from the recent hail storm in Sydney.

Commencing Saturday, February 9 at 9:00am, over 500 cars are up for auction. These vehicles are all driveable and repairable and 'non-WOVR' (not on the 'written off vehicle register'). Makes on offer include near new Mercedes-Benz, BMW, Kia, Holden and Mazda – along with many more.

The auction provides a fantastic opportunity for the public to purchase a damaged vehicle for a great price.

"The hail storm impacted our site heavily just before Christmas as well as many cars on our property and the Sydney region. Now we are offering a huge range of cars for people to purchase. The added bonus for customers is that all these driveable vehicles can be repaired and are non-WOVR," said General Manager of Manheim NSW, Daniel O'Brien.

As part of the massive one day only auction, four auction lanes will be running. Each lane will be dedicated to specific cars up for sale, including lanes for prestige vehicles, near new vehicles and miscellaneous makes and models of various ages.

The auction will take place at 144 Moorebank Avenue, Moorebank and via our online auction platform, Simulcast on Saturday, February 9 at 9:00am (AEDT). People will be able to view the cars on Thursday, February 7 and Friday, February 8 from 8:00am to 4:00pm.
