ABOUT MARK VICTOR HANSEN Mark was turned down 144 times trying to get his book published. He kept going when others told him it would never work-that it wasn't a good idea. Today with almost 500 million Chicken Soup for the Soul books sold, Mark is glad he held fast to the principles of perseverance, excellence, and belief in one's self that have allowed him to create extraordinary achievement in his life. As one of the world's most respected thought leaders, he is known globally as the Ambassador of Possibility.

The name "Chicken Soup" was chosen because of the use of chicken soup as a home remedy for the sick.

In 2005, he co-wrote, along with Robert Allen, the book Cracking the Millionaire Code in which he highlights several self-made millionaires such as Michael Dell, Bill Gates, Alexander Graham Bell, Oprah Winfrey, and others, using them as examples of how to build wealth. In 2006, Hansen co-wrote, with Art Linkletter, the book How to Make the Rest of your Life The Best of your Life. In 2010, Hansen co-authored, with Robert Allen, the book Cash in a Flash, as the sequel to the New York Times bestseller The One Minute Millionaire.
