MASQUELIER'S® ORIGINAL OPCs FOR PROTECTION INSIDE AND OUT – Limited Edition Beauty Pack

Anthogenol® Anti-Ageing Facial Serum together with Anthogenol® Antioxidant Capsules harness over 50 years of scientific research to provide a targeted solution for ageing skin and as a cardiovascular protective agent to strengthen capillaries and improve all connective tissue function by reducing collagen damage. The Anthogenol® range is now available widely in Australia with a limited-edition beauty pack featuring a special offer of a free full-size serum with any purchase of 30 capsules from anthogenol.com.au. Emily Macgregor, Phytologic Marketing Director says, "For decades the key ingredient found in the Anthogenol® range, Masquelier's® ORIGINAL OPCs, has been used worldwide and is scientifically proven to fight free radicals, whilst protecting and strengthening collagen and improving skin texture, hydration and pigmentation. "A daily routine of the oral capsules together with the topical serum make the most powerful anti-ageing combination for a youthful, glowing complexion and antioxidant support deep within the body," said Emily. Anthogenol® Anti-Ageing Facial Serum is a silky fast-absorbed gel that gives a layer of antioxidant protection as we go about our day exposed to oxidation via pollution, sun rays and stress. - Clinically proven active ingredient MASQUELIER'S® Original OPCs. - Powerful antioxidant action to help skin recover faster from free radical damage. - Protects collagen and elastin in the skin. - Helps maintain healthy skin following exposure to UV rays. - Helps reduce signs of skin ageing such as fine lines, wrinkles or pigmentation. - Made in Australia from vegan-friendly ingredients and not tested on animals. - Contains premium grade natural essential oils. - Free from synthetic fragrances, artificial colours, parabens, silicones and harsh detergents.
