

Mission Control launches on to the Cirrus Insight Inbox Apps(TM) Marketplace

Melbourne, Australia - 14 April 2016. Aprika Business Solutions (Aprika) is excited to announce that Mission Control is now available on the Cirrus Insight Inbox Apps™ Marketplace.

Melbourne, Australia - 14 April 2016. Aprika Business Solutions (Aprika) is excited to announce that Mission Control is now available on the Cirrus Insight Inbox Apps™ Marketplace. Cirrus Insight enables Salesforce application developers to bring their CRM applications into Outlook and Gmail. Now you can access your key project management data in Mission Control right from your inbox!

"Mission Control provides project management software built natively on the Salesforce platform. With many of our customers already using Cirrus Insight, we're very excited to be bringing project management and time logging functionality to Cirrus Insight and into Gmail and Outlook. With access to Mission Control direct from your inbox, our customers will be able to view projects, mark actions as complete, create new actions and log time making them even more productive!" says Colin Johnson, Founder & Managing Director of Aprika.

Mission Control is a feature-rich project management solution built natively on Salesforce. With the ability to manage projects end-to-end, its extensive functionality includes financial management, kanban whiteboards, resource capacity scheduling, timesheets, gantt charts, collaboration and expense tracking – all available on Salesforce Classic, Lightning Experience and Salesforce1.

"We couldn't be more excited to have Aprika join the Cirrus Insight Inbox Apps™ Marketplace. Joining the marketplace is a true partnership since Cirrus Insight users get access to amazing apps like Mission Control and app makers get to extend their product's functionality to where their users spend their days, namely the inbox" says Ryan Huff, CEO & Co-Founder of Cirrus Insight.

Mission Control is available from the AppExchange – www.aprika.com.au/mc-app.

-- END --

About Mission Control

Mission Control is a cloud-based project management system that operates natively on the Force.com platform. It provides a collaborative platform for organisations to effectively manage their business projects.

Project Managers, and their teams, can manage their projects on whiteboards & gantt charts, schedule their team's capacity, charts, track timesheets and expenses and gain valuable insight using the various analytical features, all from within the world's #1 CRM system.

About Aprika Business Solutions

Aprika Business Solutions provides Software as a Service (SaaS) solutions that integrate with the cloud-based CRM system Salesforce. Based in Melbourne, Australia, Aprika prides itself on exceeding client's expectations. Its core focus is on delivering productivity boosting applications that extend the value of a client's CRM system, underpinned by first-class support.

About Cirrus Insight

With over 1,000 5-star reviews, Cirrus Insight is the #1 app for integrating your CRM with your inbox. Cirrus Insight saves salespeople time and makes their lives easier by allowing them to do all of their workflows right from the inbox.

Salespeople can track and log emails, schedule meetings, set follow up reminders, and update CRM records, right from Gmail, Outlook, Office 365, iPhone, iPad, and Android. You can start a free 14-day trial of Cirrus Insight at: www.cirrusinsight.com/install

Contacts

Colin Johnson

+61 418 165 511

mailto: colin.johnson@aprika.com.au