

Mother's Day gift idea | Unusual but very practical gift for Mum this Mother's Day

Being just a fraction over the legal limit could spell disaster in the household if Mum was caught drink driving. To avoid this possibility, gift Mum a personal breathalyser this Mother's Day so she can know when it is safe to drive after a night out with friends or family. The best breathalyser for Mum is one that is lightweight, highly accurate and provides a fast reading, such as the AlcoSense Elite 3 (RRP $219) or AlcoSense Verity (RRP $269). AlcoSense personal breathalysers use fuel cell sensor technology, which provides the most accurate readings up to three decimal places. All AlcoSense breathalysers from Andatech are eligible for a lifetime warranty covered under the AlcoSense guarantee, which provides peace of mind that the device will keep providing accurate results time after time. www.andatech.com.au About Andatech: Andatech is a 100% Australian owned company that designs, supplies, supports and services safety products including high quality alcohol and drug testing equipment.
