

NelsonHall Names ADP a Leader in Payroll Services NEAT for 7th Year

ADP recognised for providing expanded digital capabilities well-positioned to help businesses navigate the challenges of today's dynamic business environment

Melbourne, Australia, 7 April 2021 – Industry analyst firm NelsonHall has again positioned ADP as a Leader in its Payroll Services NEAT 2021 Assessment. Identified as a Leader in Digital Payroll Capability, Multi-Country Capability and Asia Pacific Presence and Capability, ADP's performance across each sector of the assessment is owed to its consistency in providing a modern payroll experience tailored to address the complexities of an evolving world of work.

The NelsonHall Payroll Services NEAT is based on rigorous research and analysis of vendor performance on their ability to deliver immediate benefit and meet future client requirements. Vendors are identified in one of four categories that include Leaders, High Achievers, Innovators and Major Players. The Digital Payroll Capability NEAT, which is the Overall NEAT for this evaluation and examines collective technology and service capability, positioned ADP as a Leader, demonstrating ADP's strength in delivering innovative digital capabilities including cloud software, advanced integrations, intelligent automation, digital payments and predictive insights.

Pete Tiliakos, HR technology & services research director at NelsonHall, said, "ADP has again been recognised as a leader for its breadth and depth of payroll services offerings, capability, and continued innovation in the marketplace. ADP has derived a deep set of digital payroll enablers that are well-positioned to support firms of all sizes in modernising and futureproofing their payroll operations. The impact of ADP's innovation was further validated by strong client satisfaction and impact scores, both for the ability to support current requirements and the ability to continue meeting its client needs as their businesses mature and scale."

"We're honored to receive such high recognition from NelsonHall for our payroll innovation," said Don Weinstein, corporate vice president of global product and technology at ADP. "The past year has underscored the importance of business resiliency and continuity and the role digital transformation plays in strengthening a business' footing for the future. By continually advancing our technology, we're equipping businesses with the modern, customisable tools they need to adapt and thrive."

Advanced Digital Capabilities:

ADP was highlighted for its ability to offer businesses of all sizes a comprehensive suite of technology-enabled payroll services, including a range of customisable business processing outsourcing (BPO) services, ADP® Comprehensive Services and ADP® Comprehensive Outsourcing Services. The NEAT noted that this full suite of offerings spans beyond payroll to serve as a one-stop shop for HCM solutions.

These services are all underpinned by a deep set of digital solutions to modernise payroll operations through ADP's Next Gen Payroll platform. NelsonHall cited ADP as providing one of the most mature, digitally enabled payroll service offerings inclusive of next-generation capabilities including mobile-first design as well as artificial intelligence, machine learning, and natural language processing-enabled UX including chatbots, geofencing capability and analytic reporting and benchmarking through ADP® DataCloud, which harnesses one of the deepest and most robust HCM data sets to aid in proactive HR decision-making.

ADP earned additional recognition for ADP Marketplace, which was deemed one of the largest and most comprehensive marketplaces in the HCM space for seamless third-party integrations.

Strengthened Global Presence:

NelsonHall also recognised ADP for its significant global footprint in providing payroll and HCM solutions to nearly 37 million employees globally. ADP's global payroll services, which unify ADP GlobalView Payroll and ADP Celergo, drove its position as a Leader in Multi-Country Capability and Asia Pacific Presence and Capability. NelsonHall indicated that ADP is keenly focused on enabling deeper global capabilities and support for additional country localisations across its solutions. Key elements to its global capability include its federated development model, continued integration of ADP Celergo with the broader ADP portfolio and its advancement of its Next Gen Payroll platform with additional continuous calculation capability. ADP continues to expand the breadth of its global payroll offerings, aiming to provide multinational businesses of all sizes a seamless and trusted payroll experience.
