

New Year brings New Business Success for Polkadot Communications

Leading boutique agency, Polkadot Communications, has boosted its F&B portfolio with a raft of new business wins in January 2018.

Clients joining the agency include Shoal Bay Country Club, The Hughenden Boutique Hotel, Dietlicious, GetFish, BiteMe Media and Pizza Hut (on a project basis for the promotion of their new concept restaurants). Polkadot Communications represents some of Australia's best-known brands and clients across a range of industries including food and beverage, beauty, fashion, travel, education, events, tech disruptors, health and fitness, lifestyle and kids. Dionne Taylor, Founder and Director says: "We've had a fantastic start to the year with a number of high profile business wins. Since we rebranded last year, to Polkadot Communications, we are pleased with the number of brands coming to us wanting integrated communications services, including social, digital, PR and influencer management." Polkadot Communications has enjoyed year-on-year growth, in a highly competitive market, which is testament to the agency's success in responding to ever-changing and challenging business conditions and Dionne continued, "if business continues on this positive trajectory, we are looking to celebrate our most successful year to date."
