

Nexon Asia Pacific accelerates business growth with the acquisition of GCOMM

Nexon Asia Pacific

SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA – Friday 24th July 2020 – Nexon Asia Pacific (Nexon) today announces the acquisition of GCOMM, a leading Australian provider of network connectivity, cloud and managed IT services headquartered in Queensland's Gold Coast.

With deep technology expertise, and a robust network built from the ground up, GCOMM offers a range of technological solutions including telephony, security, and cloud solutions over an enterprise-grade network through a direct and wholesale channel.

GCOMM's clients, invested infrastructure and team of skilled engineers will become a significant inclusion to Nexon's service portfolio across Darwin, Perth and Gold Coast. The acquisition made by Nexon, will expand its network geographical point of presence and footprint which will allow Nexon to expand its service offering across Australia to new customers and wholesalers.

In a bid to support its accelerated growth strategy Nexon will drive GCOMM's wholesale partner program and look to grow it nationally. This investment will offer wholesalers a greater suite of service offerings including SD-WAN and voice-enabled Microsoft 365, giving access to new revenue streams.

The acquisition of GCOMM forms part of Nexon's clear growth strategy and vision. "GCOMM is an innovative business with high customer and employee tenure. This acquisition will strengthen our current capabilities and offering, from the network infrastructure and the automation they have built to their geographic footprint" said Nexon's Chief Executive Officer, Barry Assaf.

Peter Thompson, founder and CEO at GCOMM added "We are excited to join forces with Nexon, a company that shares our commitment to customers and employees. Nexon brings strategic and operational depth to GCOMM and the opportunity to take customer engagement and possibilities to a new level."

Earlier this year Nexon acquired, XCentral, the Technology Services division of Kiandra IT, and Remagine, to build upon their growth and offer customers value-based outcomes across Security, Cloud and Managed Services.
