

Organisational Development just got easier!

XL Events proudly announces the launch of Team XL

XL Events, a nationally recognised corporate events and training company, welcomes the newest member to the XL stable, Team XL. It is our vision that "Team XL" will be a vehicle through which Australia's leading practitioners and providers of corporate and organisational development and training services, encompassing areas such as but not limited to: Team Development, Leadership Development, Culture Management, Organisational Development, Sales skills Development, Customer Service, Coaching and training packages, Communication, Performance Management, conference management and Team Building will deliver the most current and effective programs available to organisations and companies.

Wollongong NSW: 30 April 2012- From the 1st May, Team XL will be able to offer a broad range of Organisational Development services to not only existing clients of XL Events, of which there is approximately 1,500 of Australia's top companies but also the vast number of SME's which do not readily have access to skilled providers within these sectors.

The General Manager of XL Events, John Chichkan said that with this new division comprising of a strong management background within the Team XL management and a team made up of Australia's finest organisational facilitators it is our intention that Team XL will become a leading national contributor to the provision of solutions to clients in conjunction with our facilitation providers.

The Team XL facilitators come from a mixture of speciality areas of organisational development, possess a wide range of accredited analysis tools and derive from both industry and not for profit backgrounds. All of the facilitators have been hand-picked to formulate a team which can take on and deliver highly effective solutions relating to any areas and challenges within further developing higher performances within organisations.

The new division is a continuation of the innovative and trail blazing events that the company has introduced to Australian organisations over the past 4 years which has established XL Events as the market leaders in experiential team building events in Australia. The company has over this time managed events involving over 18,000 individuals in a wide range of events ranging from the hugely popular Amazing Race around Series to the challenging Open Ocean Synergy Sailing program.

XL Events and Team XL are proud to service many well known Australian companies and organisations such as Cricket Australia, Pricewaterhouse Coopers, KPMG, Rio Tinto, BHP Billiton, Origin Energy, MLC, Vodafone Hutchison, National Australia Bank, IBM, Google, E Bay, Dell, Mitsubishi, Microsoft, Commonwealth Bank, Optus and many more.

About XL Events: XL Events and its sister company Team XL specialises in offering tailored corporate training, team building, leadership development and facilitated conference events. The company is 5 years old and in this short time has achieved national recognition through the delivery of innovative and unique corporate programs.

For more information on Team XL please visit,
<http://teamxl.com.au>

Contacts

John Chichkan
02 4228 4844
mailto:john@teamxl.com.au