

PEXA welcomes David Singh to the Board

Property Exchange Australia (PEXA), the operator of the nation's leading digital property settlement platform, is pleased to welcome Commonwealth Bank Australia (CBA) executive David Singh to the PEXA Group Board.

Mr Singh has been with CBA since 2008 and is currently the General Manager for Innovation and Business Development. Mr Singh's experience and expertise aligns to PEXA's focus on continuous improvement, enhancement of the services and support it provides to members and the community, and investment in prototyping to deliver new and exciting product features to the market.

"David is a strong leader with a wealth of experience within the financial services sector, and has built an outstanding reputation and record of driving growth and innovation. I am looking forward to his critical input as part of the PEXA Group Board," said PEXA Chairman Alan Cameron AO.

Mr Singh has taken the place of outgoing director Dan O'Neill, who has had a long association with PEXA. "We're extremely grateful for Dan's contribution and wish him all the very best in his new role at Westpac," said Mr Cameron.

About PEXA PEXA (Property Exchange Australia) is Australia's online property exchange network. It assists members – such as lawyers, conveyancers and financial institutions – to lodge documents with Land Registries and complete financial settlements electronically. PEXA was formed in 2010 to fulfil the Council of Australian Governments' (COAG) initiative to deliver a single, national e-Conveyancing solution to the Australian property industry. It was originally known as National e-Conveyancing Development Limited. PEXA is committed to supporting the property industry as it transitions towards a 100 per cent digital conveyancing process that's fast, safe and efficient.
