

Platinum Speakers and Entertainers.....Australia's Largest Online Keynote Speaker and Entertainer Database

Event Manager and Conference Organiser's Best Friend

Platinum Speakers and Entertainers are proud to announce that following the inclusion of many new and creative keynote speakers and entertainers hitting the corporate circuit late last year and into 2010 we now have even more choice for you when working on your next conference or event! Australia's largest online database is free and includes leading creative minds, business guru's, keynote celebrity and sporting speakers, conference MC's and corporate entertainers.

Providing such a conclusive, independent and interactive resource to the conference and event industry Platinum assists you and your organisation with comprehensive and professional leaders in their field and all the information required to choose from the very best. The speaker industry is now undoubtedly seeing the new leader in service, professionalism and the sharing of the latest and newest information available.

Platinum is not only Australia's fastest growing speaker and entertainer bureau, Platinum is confident it will compete on every quote provided ensuring you get the very best out of your budget with each event.

Our upcoming March edition Newsletter provides just a snapshot of the varied talent we recommend and who should be considered when working on your next event. We also value the opportunity to deliver tailored suggestions to take into a meeting or give you a quote on anyone of interest always working with your allocated budget.
